

Table 1:

Main Points of Discussion

Section:	Brief Description
5.1 The born free generation:	Who are they, what is their lived experience, and how do they view transformation.
5.2 The transformation ideal	Transformation within the born free generation has been constructed as an ideal unrepresentative of the South African reality.
5.3 The current state of transformation	What are born free experiences of transformation in the current South African context and what do they identify as the barriers and potential solutions to transformation.
5.4 The need for cultural transformation	The lack of personal and cultural transformation in South Africa is discussed as a major barrier to transformation
5.5 Born frees in higher education:	Born free experienced and expectations of transformation in higher education, and the impact of these experiences on their identity.
5.6 The transformative responsibilities of the born free generation:	The adoption of transformation as a generational goal but also through personal agency. Including the role and attitudes of the born free generation in the transformation process.
5.7 born free attitudes towards transformation	How born frees feel about transformation as its achievability in South Africa.