

Participant Identification Codes with Demographics

The participants in this study were pre-service teachers from three different departments within the School of Education: Science and Technology (Department 1), Curriculum & Social Studies (Department 2), and Mathematics Education (Department 3). These participants were selected based on availability and willingness to participate in the study. All participants were undergraduate students, with some in their 2nd year and others in their 3rd year of study. The selection process considered factors such as their engagement with the Canvas LMS and their ability to provide rich insights into its use. To ensure confidentiality, Table 4.2 below presents only the participant identification codes that will be used when referring to them in the presentation of the research findings. All participants voluntarily agreed to participate in this study, and informed consent was obtained from each of them.
